“For God so loved the world that he gave his only Son, so that everyone who believes in him might not perish but might have eternal life”

Catholic Q&A

Does the Bible say anything about drinking alcohol?

Yes, it does, whenever it mentions the consumption of wine.

The responsible consumption of wine is encouraged in the Bible. Jesus and the Apostles all took wine to drink at the Last Supper (cf. Mt 26:27,29). Jesus would not have made Himself sacramentally present in wine if wine was prohibited. The Son of man came "eating and drinking" (Lk 7:33-34) and one of His final acts on the Cross was to drink the "vinegar" or sour wine that the soldiers offered to Him (cf. Jn 19:28-30). Jesus' first miracle was turning water to wine (cf. Jn 2:1-11), and this after the wedding party had already drunk freely. Paul told Timothy to "use a little wine for the sake of your stomach" (1 Tim 5:23).

As for the OT evidence, the prophet Nehemiah commands the people to drink wine (cf. Neh 8:10). The sacrifices that God required often included wine as a drink offering (cf. Exo 29:40; Lev 23:13; Num 15:5,10; 28:7,14). The Psalmist says that God gives man plants so that he may make from them "wine to gladden the heart of man" (Psa 104:14-15). In Proverbs we receive this counsel: "Give strong drink to him who is perishing, and wine to those in bitter distress" (Prov 31:9). Wine is even used as a symbol of new life and of the fulfillment of God's promises to mankind (cf. Isa 25:6; Amos 9:14; Zech 10:7).

What we should avoid is drinking to the point of drunkenness, or to the point where we no longer have the same control over our actions that we do when we are sober. Isaiah says, "Woe to those who rise early in the morning, that they may run after strong drink, who tarry late into the evening till wine inflames them!" (Isa 5:11). Paul says to the Ephesians, "Do not get drunk with wine, for that is debauchery; but be filled with the Spirit" (Eph 5:18). Likewise, he counsels Titus, "Bid the older women likewise to be reverent in behavior, not to be slanderers or slaves to drink; they are to teach what is good" (Tit 2:3). To the Romans he says, "Let us conduct ourselves becomingly as in the day, not in reveling and drunkenness" (Rom 13:13), and to the Galatians he counts drunkenness as one of the sins that keeps a person from inheriting the kingdom of God (cf. Gal 5:21).

As the Catechism tells us, "The virtue of temperance disposes us to avoid every kind of excess: the abuse of food, alcohol, tobacco, or medicine" (no. 2290). I hope that helps.

Peace of Christ to you,
Nicholas Hardesty, Director of Religious Education

Laugh for the Week

Three men, an Italian, a Frenchman, and an American, were condemned to be executed. Their captors told them that they had the right to have a final meal before the execution. They asked the Frenchman what he wanted. "Give me some good French wine and French bread," he requested. So they gave it to him, he ate it, then they executed him. Next it was the Italian's turn. "Give me a big plate of pasta," said the Italian. So they brought it to him, he ate it, and then they executed him. Now it was the American's turn. "I want a big bowl of strawberries," said the American. "Strawberries? They aren't even in season!" The American replied, "So, I'll wait...."

Forming Good Stewards

Fourth Sunday of Lent
"For God so loved the world that he gave his only Son"
John 3:14-21

Throughout history there have been reports of people who have sacrificed their life to save a relative or comrade at arms in war. But God sent his only begotten Son. Imagine a parent sending a child to certain death to save others. What would be our reaction and response to such a sacrifice by both parent and child? Gratitude? How would we express such gratitude? Would we realize that every day of the rest of our life; everything we to enjoy in life; the time we have with our loved ones' everything we can accomplish with our talents, abilities and gifts we owe the child of the parent who saved our life? Would we feel an obligation to share all that we have and all that we do with others? Well our God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son. Such was the unconditional love that God had for us. How should we react and respond to such love? Lent is a good time for us to contemplate God's great love for us and how we have responded; how we are responding; how we can respond in the future. It is not too late.

Red Envelopes to the President

This message began in silent prayer from a faithful follower who was spending quiet time with God. Here is what came to him. Get a red envelope and on the front address it to: President Barack Obama, The White House, 1600 Pennsylvania Ave., N.W., Washington, DC 20500. On the back write the following message: "This envelope represents one child who died in abortion. It is empty because that life was unable to offer anything to the world. Responsibility begins with conception." Put it in the mail on March 31st.

Our prayers and sympathy

Are extended to Patsy Rafferty on the death of her brother, Bob Hayden.

May he rest in the love and the peace of the Lord!

Chrism Mass

The Mass will be celebrated 10:30am Tuesday, April 7 at St. Stephen Cathedral.

Words of Life

We have great hope in the Lord's power to heal our land of the painful wound of legalized abortion. Every abortion is a personal tragedy. Its dread impact falls not only on a little boy or a little girl, but on the child's parents, grandparents, siblings and everyone involved. Knowing that God's mercy is greater than all of our sins, today we pray for all these people. We pray for the conversion of all those who promote death as a solution to social ills or to an unplanned pregnancy. We pray for legislators, educators, counselors and all health care professionals who put their skills and training at their service of life. We lift up Project Rachel and other post-abortion counseling ministries, pro-life pregnancy centers, and organizations that work every day to usher in a culture of life.

Daily Bible Reading 683-8524

I hope you had a great week. Today is the Fourth Sunday of Lent. The readings are a little different today. On the third, fourth and fifth Sundays of Lent, when the RCIA candidates are present, and the Scrutinies are celebrated we are allowed to take the readings from Year A. I compromise and use only the Gospel from year A, the story of the man born blind. Even though no RCIA candidates are present, I still want to pray the Scrutinies at each Mass. We all suffer from some sort of spiritual blindness and need the Lord to be the light of the world for us enlightening our minds and hearts.

Stations of the Cross every Friday during Lent at 7pm. Come join us and walk His path to Calvary. We thank the youth group for writing the Stations we prayed this past Friday.

Penance Services for the season of Lent have started. Please check elsewhere in this bulletin for schedules. Our parish service will be this afternoon Sunday, March 22, at 2pm.

The Ministry Fair was a great success. Lots of people are interested in helping the parish. I want to thank Jan Storm and all those who helped in setting up the fair and being present at the different display tables.

I want to thank again Hal and Robin Johnson for bringing Fr. Pablo Straub to us. His preaching on Monday and Tuesday was a great blessing for many people.

All 6th and 7th graders!!! It is time to be thinking about summer camp. Power Week is a 5 day camping experience that we started 13 summers ago for middle school students that runs from Monday the 22nd of June to Friday the 26th. For more information call the office. For an application drop by the office. There is only room for 48 boys and 48 girls and it fills up fast so don't delay. There are only a few slots left for girls and the boys are half full already. SO don't delay.

We continue to pray for the guidance of the Holy Spirit on the choice of our next bishop.

Have a great week.

A Life Giving Time

It was death that brought about this unbelievably brilliant time of year. Each tender shoot of grass sprang from last year’s seed. Each daffodil was a dull, brown bulb giving no hint of the ruffled trumpet inside. And let us not forget that from the walls of that tomb, we soon will once again celebrate Resurrection! For it is out of the depths of pain and suffering and death that we have life eternal!
