Catholic Q & A

How do I respond to someone who says that wearing a scapular is just another Catholic superstition?

First, it is necessary to define what "superstition" is. The Catechism says the following:

2111 Superstition is the deviation of religious feeling and of the practices this feeling imposes. It can even affect the worship we offer the true God, e.g., when one attributes an importance in some way magical to certain practices otherwise lawful or necessary. To attribute the efficacy of prayers or of sacramental signs to their mere external performance, apart from the interior dispositions that they demand, is to fall into superstition (cf. Mt 23:16-22).

2138 Superstition is a departure from the worship that we give to the true God. It is manifested in idolatry, as well as in various forms of divination and magic.

Now, with this definition as our guide, we see that the scapular would be magical or superstitious if we believed that the mere ownership of the scapular or its mere presence on one's person was enough to ensure that person a place in heaven. But, the scapular is not a good luck charm and it is not enough to simply have it around your neck when judgment comes. It is what is implied by the wearing of the scapular that makes all the difference.

The promise of Mary to St. Simon Stock that "whosoever dies wearing this scapular shall not suffer eternal fire" extends only to those who wear the scapular as a sign of their devotion to the Blessed Mother and to living a good, Christian life of prayer and holiness. When you put on the scapular, you set yourself apart as someone who wishes to live as Mary lived, and as someone who humbly places himself under her mantle.

When we pray the "Hail Mary" we say at the end: "Holy Mary, Mother of God, pray for us sinners, now and at the hour of our death. Amen." That becomes the petition of every person who faithfully wears the scapular. He wears it with faith that Mary will pray for his soul at the time of Judgment. And if he has lead a good life, he will not suffer eternal fire.

The scapular itself also encourages and maintains the devotion that it's presence is supposed to symbolize. We feel it throughout the day, when the front or the back drops down too far, when the squares gently scratch us or pat against our bodies as we run. All of these are small reminders to live as Mary lived. We show our love to Mary by kissing the scapular, and we implore her intercession every time we clutch it in fear or sorrow. All of this is very good and pious Catholic practice.

Peace of Christ to you,
Nicholas Hardesty, Director of Religious Education

Laugh for the Week

The Blind Texan

There once was a blind man who decided to visit Texas. When he arrived on the plane, he felt the seats and said, "Wow these seats are big!"

The person next to him said, "Everything is big in Texas."

When he finally arrived in Texas, he decided to visit a bar. Upon arriving in the bar, he ordered a beer and got a mug placed between his hands. He exclaimed, "Wow these mugs are big!"

The bartender replied, "Everything is big in Texas."

After a couple of beers, the blind man asked the bartender where the bathroom was located.

The bartender replied, "Second door to the right."

The blind man headed for the bathroom, but accidentally tripped over and skipped the second door. Instead, he entered the third door, which led to the swimming pool and fell into the pool by accident.

Scared to death, knowing everything was big in Texas, the blind man started shouting, "Don't flush, Don't flush!!!"

New Roman Missal

On Sunday, November 27 of this year, Catholics in the United States will begin worshipping with the newly-translated texts of the third edition of the Roman Missal.

As the Eucharistic Prayer draws to its climactic conclusion, the celebrant sums up all that we have just prayed together. Our response is not just any old "amen" but a thunderous one. This amen, through which we give our assent and approval of the entire Eucharistic Prayer, is a resounding or "great" amen. This great amen reminds us that the Eucharistic Prayer belongs to all of those gathered to celebrate Eucharist. This great amen is an expression of ownership, allowing the faithful to confirm that the words of the Eucharistic Prayer are indeed our own words. The richness of the Eucharist Prayer is deep. In those few moments during the Mass, we witness and take part in not only what Jesus gathered with his apostles to do on Holy Thursday, but in the very act of salvation that was his death on Good Friday and his resurrection on Easter Sunday. Our faith is strengthened by what we have shared, strengthened to the point of taking this presence of the risen Lord with us into the word.

Forming Good Stewards Sunday Collections

Seventh Sunday of Easter
"I glorified you on earth by accomplishing the work you gave me to do"
John 17:1-11

Jesus spoke these words as part of his prayer to the Father for his disciples at the Last Supper just before he went to the Garden of Gethsemane. What was the work the Father had given Jesus to accomplish on earth to glorify Him? Part of that work was to be a living, breathing, walking, talking example and model to show us how we can accomplish the work the Father has given to each of us. For each of us that work is different. Each of us has received from God a vast array of talents, abilities and gifts that are unique. Each of us has a unique life experience. It is precisely because we are unique that we must identify, accept, develop and use all that God created us to be. And we must share what God has given to us with others. When we meet God face to face will we be able to say, "I glorified you on earth by accomplishing the work you gave me to do?"

A JOURNEY THROUGH GRIEF

The journey through grief is difficult...and painful. We are forever changed by a major loss experience. Clearly, we will never be the same person we were before this loss became part of our lives. The real struggle occurs when we consciously or subconsciously resist the change that must take place if we are to survive and learn to live with our loss. (It is difficult to get to know and accept this new person who is emerging.)

There will be a bereavement support group for anyone who has experienced a death at any time of his/her life. This group will run every Wednesday for four consecutive weeks and is open to all the public at no charge.

BEREAVEMENT PROGRAM-FOUR WEEK SESSIONS

WHERE: Catholic Pastoral Center TIME: 2:00-3:30 pm
600 Locust Street

CONTACT PERSON: Betty Medley (270) 683-1505

June 1 What Grief is Really Like: Some common reactions to a Situation no one is ever prepared to handle. Why we feel the way we do and why no one seems to understand.

June 8 Depression: Sadness, loss, and the feeling that nothing will ever be the same. Physical symptoms; healing can happen.

June 15 Anger: Nice people DO get angry. Recognizing our anger, coping with it and getting over it. (Address suicide and our feelings of outrage and shame.)

Guilt: Blaming ourselves for what has happened, handling the "what ifs" and "if only's" (touch on suicide, and our responsibility or lack of it.)

June 22 From Grief to Living Again: Putting grief in perspective, learning to share our lives with the living and realizing that we will never "get over" our grief, but we can learn to live with it.

I hope you had a good week. Today is the Sixth Sunday of Easter. And we find ourselves still in the Gospel of John and at the Last Supper. Jesus speaks of the coming Holy Spirit. We prepare for the great Feast of Pentecost that is two weeks away. May the Spirit open our hearts to the power of the Risen Lord.

Thank you for your generosity for the Billboards for Life program and thanks for all the baby bottles filled with change for Birthright.

Tomorrow is Memorial Day and Mass will be at a later time than usual – 9:00am. We remember all those who have fought and died for our country. May we never take our freedom for granted.

Congratulations to Father Ryan Harpole who was ordained to the priesthood for the Diocese Saturday the 21st of May.

Congratulations are also in order for Deacon Matthew Hardesty, son of Perry and Jan Hardesty of our parish. Deacon Matthew will be ordained Saturday May 28th for the Archdiocese of Louisville. We look forward to a Mass of Thanksgiving here in the parish at a later date.

Power Week is just around the corner, June 27th – July 1st. There is still room if you know a child from the 6th to 8th grades. Contact the office. Also there is always a few children that need scholarship help if you would like to support a kid for camp let us know.

From Death to New Life

Our prayers and Sympathy are extended to Tom Goetz and his family on the death of his wife Lucy. May she share in the Resurrection of the Lord!
