Catholic Q&A

Since today is the Solemnity of the Assumption of Mary, what follows is a reprint of my column from Dec. 14, '08 on Mary's assumption into heaven.

What does it mean that Mary was "assumed into heaven"? Is there any proof of this in Scripture?

What this means is that Mary, having completed the course of her earthly life, was assumed body and soul into heavenly glory. When you or I die, our soul goes to heaven, but our body remains in the dirt. Mary was different. God raised her body and soul into heaven. Just imagine watching someone float up into the sky and out of sight. It was sort of like that.

Regarding the proof from Scripture, first note that the concept of someone being assumed into heaven is not a new one. Enoch (cf. Gen 5:24; Heb 11:5) and Elijah (cf. 2 Ki 2:11-12; 1 Mac 2:58; Sir 48:4,9) were assumed into heaven. Paul says that a third man may have been as well (cf. 2 Cor 12:2-3) and Matthew speaks of "many bodies of the saints" who were raised from the tomb after Jesus' resurrection (cf. Mt 27:52-53). So, the principle is scripturally sound. We are left only to wonder, "Did this happen to Mary?"

There are several verses that seem to indicate that it did. Space prohibits me from providing the actual passages, so you'll have to look up the references yourself. See Psa 45:9; 132:8; Song of Solomon 8:5; Rev 11:19-12:1; 12:13-14.

Now, I realize that most non-Catholics are skeptical of these passages. "What does that verse have to do with Mary?!?!" they say. But, we have to keep in mind that, by the light of Christ and the teaching of the Church, we can often find meanings in Scripture that were intended by God but not necessarily intended by the human author. For example, when Isaiah said, "A virgin shall conceive and bear a son," he was literally referring to the birth of King Hezekiah. But, St. Matthew, inspired by the Holy Spirit, saw in Isaiah's words the intention of God to prophecy the coming of the Messiah. In a similar way, there's no reason to believe that behind the literal meaning of the passages listed above, we do not find the mind of the Lord regarding His mother. There is certainly nothing in Scripture that contradicts this teaching.

That said, I grant that the primary basis for the teaching of the Assumption is in the tradition of the Church, but as Catholics we should not apologize for that. After all, Scripture itself commands us to follow such tradition (cf. 1 Cor 11:2; 2 Thes 2:15; 3:6), and the Church has always believed that Mary was assumed body and soul into heaven.

Peace of Christ to you,
Nicholas Hardesty, Director of Religious Education

“The Bible Answer”

Last week the minister from a large town was headed to an appointment and was afraid he was going to be late because he could not find a parking spot. So he parked his car in a no-parking zone. He put a note under his windshield wiper that read: “I have circled the block 100 times. If I don’t park here, I’ll miss my appointment.

“FORGIVE US OUR TRESPASSES.”

When he returned, he found a citation from a police officer along with this note. “I’ve circled this block for 10 years. If I don’t give you a ticket, I’ll lose my job.

“LEAD US NOT INTO TEMPTATION.”

Forming Good Stewards Solemnity of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary

“Blessed are you among women and blessed is the fruit of your womb.”

Luke 1:39-56

On November 1, 1950 Pope Pius XII, in his Encyclical Letter Munificentissimus Deus, proclaimed, declared and defined to be divinely revealed dogma that “. . . the Immaculate Mother of God, the ever Virgin Mary, having completed the course of her earthly life, was assumed body and soul into heavenly glory.” Some ask why, how, and when, and where? Those are fair questions. The simple answer is “It’s a mystery!” But it is more important to ask, “Why not?” Why would Jesus not want to honor the young girl who accepted God’s call to be his mother [at great risk to her life], who carried him in her womb and gave birth to him in a cave, who watched him grow and was with him when he died on a cross and who rejoiced at his Resurrection by assuming her uncorrupted body to be with him in heaven for eternity? The world would be a much better place if we all honored our parents, family, friends and strangers who often do so much for us that we do not appreciate? Once again Jesus reveals to us that gratitude is the beginning of generosity.

I hope you had a good week. Today is the Feast of the Assumption (since August 15th falls on Sunday this year.) Mary is given the gift of glory immediately upon her passing away. It is called her going to sleep – her dormition> She did not undergo decay but went immediately to heaven in a glorified state. This is the gift we will all receive at the end when it is time for our reward. May Mary's prayers help us work toward this end.

Today is our Parish Feast Day as well. Hopefully you can join us for a treat after the 10am Mass in the parish hall.

Tonight is also the kick-off for the youth group for the year. We are looking forward to a great year of fun and growth in the Kingdom.

Parish Council will meet this Wednesday evening at 6:30. New members are asked to be present.

Religious Education will begin the Sunday after Labor Day. RCIA will start up the first Thursday in September.

The following people have submitted their names to be considered for a three year term. I will pull three out of a "hat." And then one member is to be appointed. Please pray for the following people: (In alphabetical order) Camilla Baker, Marian Bennett, Jeanie Best, Liz Francis, Steve Frey, Scott Hargitt, David Higdon, Sharon Johnson, Pete Linn, David Marshall, Keith Murphy, Dan Thomas. I plan to do this the weekend of our feast day.

Next summer I will be taking a group to Rome Italy for a tour. We will leave July 11 and return July 20th. We will visit Florence and Pisa, Siena and Assisi as well as 4 nights in Rome. The contact person for this trip is Suzanne Russell and you can phone her for more information at 685-4793 (leave a message) or email her at smrusismk@bellsouth.net. There are also brochures in the office with price and itinerary.
