Catholic Q&A

What is the name of the prayer of the Divine Office that is said at 3 PM?

Before the reform of the "Divine Office" -- also known as the Liturgy of the Hours -- the prayers said at 3 PM were referred to as None, which is Latin for "ninth." This was because the first prayers of the Divine Office were said at 6 AM, and 3 PM is nine hours later. With the reform of the Divine Office, Prime (6 AM), Terce (9 AM), Sext (noon), and None were consolidated into what is now called "Daytime Prayer."

What does the word "catechism" mean?

A catechism is a summary or compendium of doctrine about faith and morals. Catholic catechisms are usually organized in 4 parts (Creed, Sacraments, Morality, Prayer) and may or may not be in question and answer format. The word "catechism" comes from the Greek word katekhein, which means "to resound" or "to echo down." This is fitting because that's what a catechism does: it takes the teaching of Christ and the apostles that has "echoed down" through these many generations and passes it on to us.

What is the name of the place where the priest lives?

This building is commonly referred to as a "rectory."

Why does the bishop tap the person to be confirmed on the cheek or ear?

Since the reform of the Rite of Confirmation in 1971, this is no longer done. In the older rite, the bishop would strike each candidate on the cheek, symbolizing that the Christian is now a soldier for Christ and must endure suffering and the persecution that comes from conflict with the world. This was supposed to be done gently, although I'm sure there are many parents and grandparents among us who may recall a rather robust "reminder" by the bishop of the trials of the Catholic life!

Why did the priest face away from the congregation before Vatican II?

The orientation of the priest in the Latin Mass is not "away from the congregation" but towards the Lord. When the entire liturgical assembly -- both priest and people -- are facing in the same direction, this communicates the reality that, in the Mass, we are all together offering our praise and worship and all that we have to the Father, and the priest is offering the Sacrifice of Christ to the Father on our behalf.

Peace of Christ to you,
Nicholas Hardesty, Director of Religious Education

The Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA) has already begun. The first session was on Thursday, Sept. 1, at 7 PM in the St. John Bosco Room (the "Youth Room") in the Family Life Center. But, it's not too late for inquirers to join the process!

Do you have a friend, co-worker, or family member who has a lot of questions about Catholicism or who might be interested in becoming Catholic? Please have them contact me! With your help, we can introduce more people to the truth and beauty of the Catholic faith!

Laugh for the Week

“The New Baby Sitter”

A young man agreed to baby-sit one night so his neighbors could have an evening out. At bedtime he sent the youngsters upstairs to bed and settled down to watch football.

One child kept creeping down the stairs, but the young man kept sending him back to bed.

At 9:00PM the doorbell rang, it was the next-door neighbor, asking whether her son was there. The young man replied, “NO”

Just then a little head appeared over the banister and shouted, “I’m here, Mom, But he won’t let me go home!!”

From Death to New Life

Gospel Mt 18:15-20

Superman is a fictional character that started as a hero in the comic genre that graduated to the television, then to the movie screen. He has served as an icon for the moral truth that with great power comes great responsibility to choose to use such power for good or evil. Happily, for many generations of Americans, Superman has chosen to use his powers for good. Although we may not be able to fly faster than a speedy bullet or leap tall buildings with a single bound, we all possess great power. Each of us has the awesome power to forgive sins - the sins of commission and omission that others commit directly or indirectly against us. God has given us the ability to say to others, “I forgive you.” Unless we are a priest we have not been given the power to forgive sins in the Sacrament of Reconciliation. But we are stewards of our own ability to forgive. Jesus assures us that if we turn to our heavenly Father in prayer He will be with us and help us to forgive.

I hope you had a good week. Today is the Twenty-Third Sunday in Ordinary Time. Jesus talks about agreeing in prayer and that He hears us when we do so. Let us agree to pray for one another and for this great parish.

Monday is Labor Day so the office will be closed. Mass will be at 9am.

Liturgy committee meeting Wednesday evening at 6:30.

RCIA has begun. If you know anyone who might be interested in the Catholic faith call the office and we will contact them. We meet every Thursday at 7pm in the youth room.

Next weekend is Disciple Response Fund weekend. There will be a bulletin insert and extra envelopes in the pews for your convenience.

The last heavy rain found us putting buckets in church at one spot. The roof needs repairing. The valleys all have to be redone. The whole roof is over 17 years old so we are getting estimates on replacing the whole thing. More info later.

Many of you know that there is a terrible famine in Somolia. The Holy Father has asked all parishes to help alleviate the suffering there. So we will have a second collection for famine relief the weekend of the 11th of September.

I have a new emergency number at the rectory. 663-1398. I was using the Gideon Productions number but that was confusing to people so now I have a separate line.
